

POLL OPEN TODAY UNTIL 4 P.M.

By GEORGE GUNTER

Students may cast ballots for the candidates of their choice today in the Student Union from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m., at the Student Court-operated polls.

The Student Council refused to change the polling site late Monday afternoon after a petition had been submitted at the regular Council meeting signed by over 200 students and several candidates. The petition, in brief, said "we recommend changing the placement of the voting booths from the Student Union to a more centrally located polling area for the benefit of those students who will be voting."

According to Bill Logan, chief justice, there will be a minimum of five Student Council and Student Court members at the polls at all times.

Another Spartan is now in the heated race for the office of ASB president as a write-in candidate running opposed to Bob Barmettler, Ray Bishop, Joe Juliano, and Tom Wall.

Three male students have stepped into the political ring and are running for vice president. They are Bob Cronemiller, Dale LaMar, and George Link.

Dolores Arnold and Phil Piazza are the candidates for ASB secretary.

Competing for the treasurer's office are Mary Inez Arias, Bruce Craig, Bill Dunlavy, Len Frizzi and Pat Walsh.

Run-offs will be held in the Student Union Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. also. Although balloting will be in progress upstairs, posters may be displayed in the Coop.

All posters and campaign devices must be removed by 8 a.m. tomorrow except for the candidates who remain in the race. Their publicity must be taken down by 8 a.m. Saturday.

No material may be hung at any spot above eye level, and the use of tacks, pins, and wire is forbidden on trees.

To date, no candidate has been disqualified from the running.

Complete platforms of the candidates and their pictures appeared in the Spartan Daily yesterday.

Vets Deadline

Friday is the last day for vets serving under the G.I. Bill of Rights to purchase supplies for this quarter, says H. E. Brakebill, assistant college comptroller.

The Spartan Shop and the California Book Store will honor emergency purchases only, after the deadline.

Lee Dickason Late Entrant Gives Views

Lee Dickason, write-in candidate for the office of student body president, offered to lead the students ahead in a year of active administration.

"What the student bodies of most schools of higher education lack is the initiative to carry through projects started. This could be easily caused by weak government. The student government should be a thinking and active body. It should take independent and aggressive action on issues concerning the student body internally and externally as well.

"The issues include coordination between student body and government, participation in the National Student Association, closer relations with other schools, and sound and efficient handling of student body funds."

RECORD SET BY WSSF DRIVE

Culminating the most successful student drive in the history of San Jose State college, Bill Dunlavy, WSSF treasurer, yesterday announced a total of $3100 (including pledges) was collected for the Student Fund.

This amount is $2500 more than the 1947 campus drive, and $732 more than the former record drive when $2368 was collected in a combined Community Chest-War Chest drive in 1944.

Hall Landry, chairman of WSSF, was commended by ASB President Emerson Arends when Landry made his report to the Student Council on Monday.

Co-REC BOWLING SET TOMORROW

Co-recreational bowling, sponsored by the co-recreation committee, will commence tomorrow evening at the Jose Bowling alley at 7:30.

Any student in possession of an ASB card may attend the bowling sessions which will be held every Thursday night until the end of the quarter.

According to co-director Bobbie Hill students may bowl as many times as they wish at student prices. Price per line is 26 cents. Refreshments will be served to the exhausted bowlers, states Miss Hill.

Cal Vets Rep. Here

J. D. Murchison, California veterans' representative, will be in room 18, between 1 and 2:30 p.m., tomorrow to answer questions.

CONCERT GETS ACCLAIM

By PAT O'BRIEN

Louis XIV, himself, would not have been disappointed with last night's chamber music concert in the college Little Theater. He also would have had the unique experience of having heard Debussy the hit of the program.

The rhythmic vigor of Beethoven opened the program with Carolyn Bull at the piano, Jane Pope, violin, and Joseph Cathey, violoncello. Miss Bull was exquisite at the piano.

Carl Lundstrom on the violin and Dennis Barrett, viola, performed Handel's rousing "Passacaglia for Violin and Viola" with an unflinching freedom and composure.

The beautiful wind instruments carried on a sprightly conversation through Beethoven's "Quintet for Wind Instruments, Opus 71." Winifred Pearson was at the flute, George Cunha, oboe, James Schwartz, clarinet, Roderick Swearingin, horn, and Phyllis Mace, bassoon.

The haunting beauty of Debussy was administered by the string quartet resulting in the most perfect and exciting expression of the evening. Delores O'Neil and Craig Johnson's violins, Walter Dahlin's viola and Virginia Howe's violoncello gave a mercilessly honest interpretation to the Impressionist's "Quartet No. 1, Opus 10."

REPORT TO BE GIVEN TO AWS

AWS members are asked to attend a meeting in room 24 today at 4:30, according to Virginia Luke. A report will be given by Marilyn Zeller and "Jeff" Brewster concerning the AWS conference they attended at the University of Washington, Seattle, last week.

A fashion show is being planned by AWS to be held on May 6. All women students interested in being in the fashion show or helping with it as asked to attend the meeting today.

Models will be chosen from each sorority, women's organization and boarding house. The fashion show is to be held at the Catholic Women's Center and the leading stores of San Jose will display clothes for all occasions. Approximately fifty garments will be modeled by the girls.

Sales Job Open

A girl is needed for a sales job every Saturday in San Francisco. Only girls interested in working hard need apply.

Officials Have Spardi Gras Meeting Today

Queen campaign managers and organizational Spardi Gras chairmen will meet today with the SG Executive committee at 11:30 in the Spardi Gras office, room 8, announced Sal Millan, publicity director.

"The purpose of this meeting will be to give a preliminary briefing to campaign managers of the rules and regulations that will govern the SG activities," stated Millan. He added that the Executive committee will be present to answer any questions asked by those attending.

Millan stated that valuable information will be released at the meeting and that it is of great importance to organizational chairmen and campaign managers.

U.C. CHEMIST SPEAKS IN S112 MONDAY NIGHT

Dr. Melvin Calvin, a nationally known research chemist, will speak on photosynthesis before a section meeting of the American Chemical society in room S112 of the Science building Monday, April 26, Dr. Carl Duncan has announced.

Dr. Calvin is professor of chemistry at the University of California and director of Bio-organic chemistry at the university's radiation laboratory.

The San Jose division of the American Chemical society, the San Jose State college student affiliate of the society, and the chemistry fraternity will sponsor the meeting and play hosts for the evening.

"Dinner will be held at the St. Claire hotel at 6:30," Dr. Gertrude Cavins explained. "The meeting will follow at 8:00 in S112.

"We hope this will be the beginning of big things in the chemistry field for our college," she remarked. "Dr. Calvin is a national authority in photosynthesis, atomic and molecular structure, and the chemical structure of chromosomes."

Alumni To Hear Police Professor

The Santa Clara County Alumni association of San Jose State college will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening at 8.

Peter Kristovich, instructor in the San Jose State college Police school, will be guest speaker for the evening, according to Miss Doris K. Robinson, secretary of the association.

Authors Meet 'Lyke' Editors

All literary and art contributors to Lycurgus magazine are asked to attend a general meeting to be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in barracks 94, Marian Ellis and Al Campbell, editors, announced today.

Short stories, features, cartoons and articles of general interest will be considered at the meeting, the editors said.

"If you don't know what to write about just come and we'll give you an assignment," Campbell stated. Miss Ellis, literary editor, added that poets and humor writers are especially encouraged to attend.

Lycurgus is scheduled to be on sale June 2, according to Sal Millan and Jim Black, sales and promotion managers.

"Lyke" will sell for only 25 cents as in the past, the editors promised.

class will hold a picnic on Sunday, May 2, at Adobe Creek Lodge. Tickets for the affair will go on sale next week.

The Council recommended to the junior class they give up two of their social dates, one each to the sophomore and senior classes. This move was made in an attempt to equalize the number of dates available to student groups.

Bill Ellsworth, senior class president, was granted the use of the ASB public address system for advertising purposes until Friday. Ellsworth made the request to remove the senior class from the obligation of renting expense.

The five San Jose State delegates to the NSA convention at Los Angeles will leave from the San Francisco airport on Friday at 11:57 a.m. They will remain in Los Angeles until 12:15 p.m. Sunday, according to Arends.

A request for boxing awards was returned to the P.E. department by the Council because more awards were asked than the department authorized. The matter will come up again Monday.

VATICAN CITY—Pope Pius XII received 17 Americans in private audience yesterday. The meeting lasted for 15 minutes. Myron C. Taylor introduced them.

ROME—Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi, victor in the recent election, declared yesterday that his government, to be formed May 10, would not include Communists. The Christian Democrats polled 8,101,569 or 47.4 per cent of the vote. The Communists received 5,382,076. The right wingers and pro-government forces polled 11,613,925 total votes or nearly a two-to-one majority. Only 10,000 precincts remained to be counted.

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis was fined more than $20,000 by Workers more than $1,000,000. The government today seeks an Workers more than a $1,000,000. The government today seeks an injunction to prevent a coal strike.

BOGOTA—The Inter-American conference paid tribute yesterday to the assassinated Colombian Liberal leader, Jose E. Gaitan, and adjourned until today. The Liberal leader was buried yesterday.

WASHINGTON—The State department this week will seek power to sell arms to friendly nations and prevent shipment to unfriendly powers.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica—The rebel forces of General Jose Figueres would surrender to the government. Meantime, President Teodoro Fricado resigned in accordance with the truce.

LONDON—Allied forces here declared yesterday that a unified government for western Germany was a distinct possibility before this year is out. A conference of the western Big Three and the Benelux nations met in conference here. The Benelux nations include Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. France, England and the United States represented the big powers.

Prevent Minority Rule!

At times it takes a keg of high explosives to initiate a body of voters into exercising their rights as such.

Take this voting privilege away from the people and John Public rises up in righteous indignation crying, "Hang the dirty Communistic (or Fascist or Socialistic) so-and-so!" Curtail the freedom of the people and they're the first to be up in arms.

But once they have their unalienable rights safely wrapped up under lock and key the voters are only too eager to once again settle indolently back on their lethargic posteriors.

Why is this? It doesn't make sense. If those who have the right to vote would only take cognizance in the naked facts of their inheritance they would soon be crowding the polls to cast a ballot.

The only reason you are able to vote as freely as you do is because of the type of government you have.

Only three per cent of the Russian population is active in the Communist party. This three per cent control and crack the whip over the vote of roughly 250,000,000. Dominated as they are the people of Russia probably could not throw off the yoke of Communism if they had the desire to.

It doesn't take the intelligence of an Albert Einstein to realize what would happen in the United States if a like three per cent gained control. You would shortly lose that right you sometimes don't bother to exercise.

The American people, of which you are all allegedly a part, are often a tragically comic lot. You'll stand in line for hours in weather ranging from suffocating heat to chill penetrating cold—and what for? To buy a ticket to a football or baseball game! And yet you won't take five minutes to vote for that which allows you all such things. If you're tired of the democratic way, stay away from the polls today as you have in the past. If not, show your willingness to stick with Democracy by voting for it.

You the students of San Jose State have another opportunity to respond to liberty given you as your ASB government candidates run for office today. Take full advantage of your opportunity by voting YOUR choice of government into office today.

Vote now!

Nimitz Takes Regent Post

The leading story of the April 15 Daily Californian:

"Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz was appointed by Governor Warren yesterday to fill a vacant position on the University Board of Regents.

Nimitz was appointed to fill the position vacated last Friday by the death of Frederick W. Roman. The former commander and chief of the Pacific fleet will serve on the board until 1956. . . ."

Engwicht Gives First Lecture

The California State Polytechnic college "El Mustang carried this story:

"Harry Engwicht, associate professor of Radio Engineering at San Jose State college, delivered the first lecture to the newly organized student branch of the Institute of Radio Engineers. . . . Engwicht is an Electrical Engineering graduate from Stanford and has taught for a number of years at Stanford and San Jose State in addition to a number of years of commercial experience."

Definitions Of "Man" Given

Definitions of "Man" discovered in the Cal Poly El Mustang:

"A man might be defined as a human peacock filled with good humor, strength, courage, and like Duz, does everything. A man is a peculiar sort of human being, possessed by a feeling of superiority and an ambiguous nature.

"He is a gentleman (always) who prefers blondes, but eventually marries a brunette. He sincerely believes that every female is out to get him, yet so afraid none will.

"He is an authority on any subject, including that of women. You'll have to admit that he has a way with the opposite sex. There are any number of girls sitting home waiting for him to call, but he should have thought of that a couple of weeks sooner."

Women Are Scarce

The editorial column of the University of Idaho's Idaho Argonaut offers some interesting data:

"Occasionally we hear complaints from men students regarding the shortage of women on the campus. The University of Idaho is not alone in this respect. A survey covering approximately 1700 institutions of higher learning, including schools for women, showed an enrollment of 1,659,000 men and 679,000 women during the first semester of 1947-48. . . .

"Another study, just recently completed by the University of Illinois, which included 125 representative institutions, showed an average enrollment as follows: men, 2519; women, 953; total 3472.

"Of the 2,340,000 students enrolled in the fall of 1947, 46 percent were veterans."

Vile Language Use Disclosed

The University of Idaho conducted a poll to discover some of the reasons why so many of the students use "vile and uncouth language." Some of the typical replies were:

"Instructors. I said it and I'm glad."

"Men! Need I say more?"

"Teachers and the grading system in this university."

"Women and their demoralizing effect upon humanity—especially manhood."

"The presence of veterans on campus . . . It's their past, dirty life."

"Golf."

LINK TRAINER GIVES SCRIBE TERRIFIC RIDE

By MERLE BLONDIN

Say, how would you like to fly that Link trainer over there?" greeted Mr. Donald L. James Jr. when I entered the Aeronautics "lab" yesterday.

Well, I looked at that innocent looking simulated plane in a corner and said, "Sure thing!"

Little did I know what I was getting myself into, never having been in a plane before.

BRIEFING

My preliminary briefing consisted of an explanation of instrument flying and a demonstration of what is meant by flying on a beam and the problem of staying on it. After these directions my instructor felt that I was ready to fly.

Mr. James told me to get into the plane. Before me on the dash were all sorts of flight instruments and on the floor all sorts of levers. I felt like the proverbial "bull in the china closet."

I was told to put the right and left levers (rudders) with my feet to keep the turn indicator pointer centered on the indicator so that my speed would not drop down too low and cause a stall. I must keep my eye on the bank indicator, or I might slip which would result in losing control of the plane. Altimeter, compasses, climb indicator and a few other instruments stared back at me from the instrument panel.

SOMETHING WENT WRONG

Now everything was all set, and I got off to a good start. I was watching the instruments when something went wrong with the plane. It wasn't responding at all to my touch!

Well, when things righted themselves again, I had a greater appreciation of the abilities of the trained flier.

But the flying bug has hit me.

Botany Professor Possesses Hoary Specimen

By WALTER LOEWEN

A specimen from the trunk of a Metasequoia tree now in the possession of Mr. Lyman H. Daugherty, professor of Botany, is there because of a seven weeks' expedition into the remote interior of China.

The Metasequoia, formerly known only in fossil form was discovered by Dr. Milton Silverman, science editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, and Dr. Ralph W. Cheney, University of California's paleobotanist.

According to Drs. Silverman and Cheney, 1000 of the Metasequoias or living dawn redwoods are growing in the Valley of the Tiger. They are growing in a valley that looks the same as it did 120,000,000 years ago.

Idea for the expedition came about six months ago when Dr. Cheney received a package from China which indicated that the Metasequoia might still be a living specimen. When Dr. Silverman heard of this, he told his editor, who allocated $2000 for the expedition.

Mr. Daugherty explained that there is practically no visible difference between the Metasequoia and the redwood. The most prominent is the fact that the Metasequoia is deciduous. Its bark is much thinner than the redwood's.

Politics Draws Gaucho Girls

Women are taking over the political scene at Santa Barbara College. The El Gaucho reports: "The women are interested in politics.

This was indicated by the list of candidates for the coming Student Body elections filed in the office of the Graduate Manager. As the paper closed Wednesday morning, only four names had been entered and they were all feminine."

Lonely Person Steals War-Torn Dummy

By BOB HEISEY

Another example of the various types of personalities that make up the student body of a college has been added to the list of Spartan nasties.

Somewhere on campus lurks a new kind of pervert. In some dark corner of the campus this warped creature is slobbering into the reluctant ear of his latest forcible conquest. Holding her much against her will he is attempting to force his foul company on her.

SEEKS SATISFACTION

To satisfy his unnatural desire this repugnant person has snatched from the hallways of our college a young woman that was doing much for students all over the world. This girl was devoting every second of her spare time to further the cause of WSSF. She had been on duty 24 hours a day for many days in the interest of publicizing the WSSF drive.

Sometime between Thursday evening and Friday morning an unknown stinker stole the Mannequin standing in all her war-torn bandages in front of Dean Paul Pitman's office. This mannequin had been loaned to the WSSF committee by the San Jose chapter of the Red Cross to help them with their fund raising drive. The Red Cross certainly want their property back. The Mannequin, dressed in a natty Red Cross nurse uniform, is used to help recruit nurse applicants.

TO START SEARCH

The WSSF committee has worked very hard in its campaign, and to have the task of locating the mannequin forced on them now is certainly no reward for their efforts.

If the person, or persons, who took the figure from the hall will stop and consider what a childish trick it was, they will surely see the advisability of returning it.

How about it, brave boy?

Dummy up, dummy, bring the dummy back!

In Days Of Yore Gun-Packin' Gals Ranged SJ Campus

What's become of the gun-pack'n, sharp-shoot'n campus gals of the roar'n thirties?

Time was when keen-eyed, SJS girls learned to fire machine guns, rifles, pistols and automatics in a special gunnery course for girls only.

The three quarter course was part of the police administration program. Girls studied ballistics, trajectory, windage, and went all-out for the marksmanship class.

Miss Lydia E. Innes, personnel secretary on campus in 1931, provided the year was one of fearless women. She stepped from behind her typewriter one afternoon and qualified as expert pistol marksmen—under Army regulations!

LEAGUE GETS GREEN LIGHT

GOOD WEATHER HELPS SPARTAN TRACK TEAM

San Jose State's thinclads are finally getting in their practice licks without the competition of rainy skies as they prepare for the last home meet of the year with the College of Pacific Saturday afternoon.

The Spartans are rapidly reaching mid-season form, and although they may not be pressing too hard against the weak Tigers, several men will be out to improve on the meet, and our own school records.

COP, drubbed last week by Fresno State, 88-36, have but two men whose best marks top those made by the local squad's first place winners.

They are sprinter Bob Heck, who has done 9.6 in the 100-yard dash, and 21.5 in the 220, and last year's CCAA 440 champ, McVicker.

Heck upset San Jose's Don Smalley in the 100 at Stockton last season, but has not done better than 9.8 this year. Both sprints, which will pit Heck against Smalley and his teammates, Bob Bingham and Steve O'Meara, should be the closest battles of the afternoon.

O'Meara has perhaps shown the greatest improvement of any Spartan sprinter this year. He finished third in a blanket finish with Willie Steele and Smalley at San Diego, and was unofficially timed in 21.6 as Steele beat him by only four yards in the 220.

The Spartans' Fred Mangini, who ran an approximate 49.5 against Stanford, will be out to turn the tables on McVicker, who whipped him twice in 1947.

Today's long skirts are tough on fellows who can't remember faces.

SORORITIES and FRATERNITIES

THE SECOND GUESS

By CARL UNDERWOOD

With the cry of "batter up" once more filling baseball parks all over the U. S., we'll have to join the long line of second guessers, and make a few predictions as to who will do what in the majors and Pacific Coast league this season.

RED SOX PICKED

In the American circuit, our guess is that the Boston Red Sox will win back the pennant they lost to New York last year. Ex-Yankee Manager Joe McCarthy has taken over the Red Sox helm, and with their great slugger, Ted Williams leading the attack, the Beantown club will be hard to beat.

The world champion Yankees have a number of question marks, including Joe DiMaggio, but as all baseball fans know, the "Murderer's Row" can never be counted out of any pennant race.

A battle for third place should be between the Detroit Tigers, who finished second in 1947, and Cleveland with its ace fire ball pitcher, Bobby Feller.

Another real threat may be ancient Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, who have not been among the first four teams since 1933, but only missed by a single game last season.

Chicago, Washington, and the St. Louis Browns should bring up the tail end of the junior circuit league.

DODGERS TO REPEAT

Moving over to the National loop, we'll string along with Brooklyn's beloved bums. Most of the experts look for either the St. Louis Cardinals or Boston Braves to dethrone the Dodgers, however, due to the questionable trading of "the people's cherce," Dixie Walker, and the team spark plug, Ed Stankay.

Leo "The Lip" Durocher may have a tough time proving he's a better manager than gulet Bill Shotten, who directed Brooklyn to a near World Series win in 1947.

The once young St. Louis Cardinals appear to be on the way out unless new blood is found soon, but they may be able to take one more pennant. It's this year or never, however, for the former "Gashouse Gang."

Billy Southworth's Boston Braves look to be the club who could upset the dope and walk off with their first pennant in nearly 30 years. They finished a strong third last year, and could turn the October classic into a subway series.

The slugging New York Giants, who smashed the tremendous all-time record number of 221 home runs last season, also can not be counted out if they can just discover another winning pitcher like ex-San Francisco Seal Larry Jansen.

The Philadelphia Phillies, Pittsburgh Pirates, and once mighty Chicago Cubs have little hopes of moving into the first division.

S. F. SEALS FAVORED

Closer to home, the Pacific Coast league looks to be a battle between the San Francisco Seals, their cross-town rivals, Oakland, and Los Angeles. We'll stick by the Seals' Lefty O'Doul, whom many call the best manager in baseball, major leagues included.

San Diego, Hollywood, Sacramento, Portland and Seattle, finishing in that order, round out our peerless picks for this session.

MacQUARRIE TO ALLOW HARTRANFT TO DECIDE

By ARNOLD WECHTER

Hope for a new grid conference soared yesterday, when Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of San Jose State college, gave his tacit approval of the new conference. Dr. MacQuarrie told the Spartan Daily that he would leave the decision to the head of the Physical Education department, Glenn "Tiny" Hartranft. "I have faith in the judgement of Tiny Hartranft," he declared.

HARTRANFT AGREEABLE

Hartranft has already admitted his interest in the proposed new conference. "We would be open to suggestions on the new formation of a new conference. The new conference would be stronger in football, basketball and baseball," he had stated earlier.

President MacQuarrie also said that football should pay its own way and not be an expense to the Associated Students. He said the new conference would financially benefit the colleges involved.

The conference was originally proposed by Bill Leiser, San Francisco Chronicle sports editor, and Ty Cobb, sports writer in Reno, Nevada. It will be composed of six colleges: St. Mary's college, Santa Clara university, University of Nevada, University of San Francisco, College of Pacific, and San Jose State college.

LEISER SPARK

Leiser stated that a new conference would benefit the six colleges both financially and in increased public support. "They (the colleges involved) have far more strength and public support than they realize, but to cash in on it, they have to build their own league," Leiser wrote.

Tom Barca, San Francisco Call Bulletin sports writer, has joined the chorus in demanding a new conference. He declared the new conference would solve the problems now faced by the six colleges.

Father Joseph J. Sullivan, S. J., faculty moderator of athletics at USF, told the Spartan Daily that he would place the plan before the USF Athletic Board.

Tiny Hartranft, director of athletics here, stated yesterday that Spartan Stadium will soon be enlarged to accommodate four thousand more people. He declared if, and when, a new conference is formed, and the stadium again needs enlargement, appropriate measures will be taken.

STUDENTS APPROVE

San Jose State student opinion was clearly shown yesterday when the Spartan Daily took a poll of the student body on their views of a new conference. An overwhelming majority favor the plan for a new conference.

Eleven out of every twelve students informed on the plan for the new conference favor the idea. The poll clearly showed that if a formal vote was to be held the students would vote the conference in.

Jimmy Foxx is the only man ever to have won the American League's Most Valuable Player award three times.

DR. BARTKY OF STANFORD TO SPEAK HERE TONIGHT

Dr. John Bartky, dean of education at Stanford, and the "Mystic 13," local magicians and entertainers group, will share the spotlight on tonight's pre-"I Am An American Day" program in the Morris Dailey auditorium at 8.

Tonight's entertainment will be led by Ted Slater, president of the Mystic 13. Ted Garofalo will perform his comedy Chinese magic. Walter Cunningham will ventriloquize with his dummy, Larry Alexander, who once made Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" cartoon. And Harry Shaw will do his silk routine.

This evening's program is the first of a series of four meetings prepared especially for native born 21-year-olds who are attending San Jose State or who are living in San Jose. Four outstanding speakers—Dr. Bartky is the first—will talk on the "Essential Features of our democracy and the problems facing our people" on four Wednesdays preceding the "I Am An American Day" celebration on May 16.

The 1948 celebration will honor 760 Spartans and a like number of young San Joseans who will be 21 by Sunday, May 16. Certificates of citizenship will be presented to the 21-year-olds as well as to all naturalized citizens of this area in an impressive ceremony in the Civic Auditorium.

Emceeding tonight's program will be Mrs. Edith Slosser, vice principal of Woodrow Wilson Junior High school's night school. She has the distinction of being the first person to receive a general secondary degree at San Jose State college, according to Dean Paul M. Pitman.

M'Neil Heads YM-YW Group

Bruce McNeil, president of the San Jose State college Student Y, was elected associate co-chairman of the Pacific Northwest Region of the Student YMCA-YWCA at the Orinda Regional conference April 16 to 18, announced Rev. "Mac" Carpenter, executive secretary.

McNeil was also appointed to the Asilomar Planning committee for the annual Asilomar conference to be held later in the year. This conference will include the entire Pacific Coast region.

Delegates attending the conference from San Jose State included Bruce McNeil, Marie Herold, Hall Landry, Vivian Ako, Bobbe Hillis, Joe Galatz, Jeanne Sharp, Lenore Staats, Carl Frudden, Gene Rand, Toni Pitman, Florence Winning, Ed Muckmeyer, and "Mac" Carpenter.

ATKINSON GETS CHAPTER POST

Earl W. Atkinson, head of the Commerce department, was elected president of the San Jose chapter, National Office Management Association, at a meeting held at O'Brien's Monday evening.

Other new officers are: R. J. Houge, office manager, Barron-Gray Packing Company, vice-president; Clarence H. Leese, vice-president, First National Bank, treasurer, and T. E. Corcoran, Jr., office manager, Clapp's Baby Food plant, secretary.

So You Think You Use Books

How many books do you borrow from the Library?

Miss Barbara Wood, circulation librarian, claims that an average of 525 books are borrowed each day from the stacks. The most frequent subject is literature which includes poetry, drama, fiction and essays. Fine arts is in second place. This includes drawing, design, decoration, painting, photography and music.

Miss Wood says that an average of 700 reserve books are used each day. Most of them are for one hour periods; a quarter of them are taken out overnight.

But the amount of books borrowed reaches an all-time high when the assignments catch up with the student near the end of the quarter, Miss Wood says.

Display Shows Way To Health

An invitation to "Take the Milky Way to Health" is being extended to the student body through an exhibit now on display in the Home Economics building show cases.

Pearl Lavagnino, junior H. E. major, has arranged the exhibit as the second in a series scheduled by Dr. Margaret Jones' Methods of Teaching class.

A miniature dairy farm loaned by the Industrial Arts department is included in Miss Lavagnino's display which will remain in the cases all this week.

UMT Provokes Near Riot On LA Campus

LOS ANGELES, April 20 (UP)—Los Angeles City college today blamed outsiders for fomenting a demonstration over universal military training that blew up into a near-riot of fist fights and tomato-throwing.

Dr. P. Victor Peterson, former San Jose State college Science department head is now acting president of Los Angeles State college which is on the same campus as the City college.

HUNDREDS SWARM

Several hundred of the City college's 11,000 students swarmed to a corner of the campus yesterday to break up a proposed parade against UMT.

They broke into a car owned by Larry Perlman, 22, who said he was a member of the Young Progressive Citizens of America. The crowd scattered placards and 2,500 mimeographed leaflets Perlman had in the car.

"You're acting like a bunch of guys trained in Nazi Germany," Al Lipney, 20, told the crowd as ripe tomatoes and pears splattered over him. "I'm not a Communist, you've made me do a lot of thinking."

VETERAN ACCUSES

Veteran Dan Bannerman, 29, charged that some of the students opposing the rally would be "too damn lazy to vote against Wallace." He was pelted with an egg.

John Plakos, former students' President, charged that the "pro-Wallace crowd" stuffed the ballot boxes in a campus poll on UMT "to make it look better for them."

Dr. Einar W. Jacobsen, college President, said the anti-UMT organization was not recognized on campus and the rally was directed "by outside individuals."

"It was the second college demonstration in four days. At Pasadena City college Friday, students pelted a pro-Wallace speaker with lunchbox leftovers."

Documents Shown

Display of reproductions of documents appearing on the Freedom Train may be seen in the main corridors of the Stanford university library, according to the university calendar.

JOYAL MAY TAKE OVER FRESNO SC

SACRAMENTO, April 20. (UP)—State Superintendent of Public Instruction Roy E. Simpson announced today he will nominate Dr. Arnold E. Joyal, Dean of the College of Education at the University of Oklahoma, to be the new President of Fresno State college.

Simpson said he will place Joyal's name before the State Board of Education at a San Francisco meeting Friday and Saturday. Simpson's office said, "It is expected" the Board will approve the appointment.

Joyal would succeed Dr. Frank W. Thomas, who retires at the end of the current school year.

The Board also will consider rules to govern driver education and training in secondary schools and further reports on the proposed Firebaugh-Mendota Joint Union High School District in Fresno, Merced and Madera counties.
